Official Canvass Of Vote For President Electors In Ulster

Economy May Prevent Change

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP).—Economy may prevent any speedy re-canting of the vote for president in Ulster county, New York, after the last general election shows that Franklin D. Roosevelt and Charles Curtis have polled 2906 more votes than did Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis.

The official canvass of the vote for president in Ulster county, New York, after the last general election shows that Franklin D. Roosevelt and Charles Curtis have polled 2906 more votes than did Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis. The canvass is being conducted by the county board of canvassers, which is composed of the county clerk, the county judge, and the county treasurer. The canvass is being conducted in a very thorough manner, and it is expected that the results will be announced in a few days.

Christmas Seal Makes Its Appeal

I am the Christmas Seal. I come to you with a greeting of health and good cheer. To the sick, I give hope that they may become well again. To the well, I give protection and promise of a longer life. I am the children's friend for I make possible stronger bodies and happier minds. Please get a supply of me as you feel able. If you must refuse me, send me back whence I came, so that I may be elsewhere on my mission of mercy.

Yours for health and happiness,
THE CHRISTMAS SEAL

Santa Claus Was Delayed by a Fog

But He Got Here Just the Same on Thanksgiving Day and Was Given a Royal Reception by Mayor Carey and Throng of Citizens.

Heard up by fog in New York, Santa Claus, brought to Kingston through the courtesy of the Rose & Gorman store Thanksgiving Day, did not arrive at the Kingston Airport in his Goodyear blimp until some time around two o'clock, but his tardy call, however, lost none of his significance as there was a large crowd of adults and children on hand to send up a lusty cheer of welcome as he stepped out of his giant airship.

An official welcome to Santa was extended by Mayor Eugene B. Carey. After this the jolly old fellow climbed aboard a truck, decorated for the occasion, and rode through the city to wave a greeting to all his little friends along the line.

The Santa Claus crowd was one of the largest ever seen at the airport. Sergeant James Cunningham with a squad of state troopers and representatives of the sheriff's office directed the parking of automobiles, estimated at approximately 1,000, and kept the spectators off of the landing field.

Hunger Marchers Plan Thwarted

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP).—Successfully thwarting a tax-cab invasion of the White House grounds by self-styled "hunger marchers," plans were laid by police today to deal with new groups coming here when Congress convenes.

Every effort to discourage the "march" from scattered states has been made by capital authorities who, meanwhile, were reported to be taking extra precautions to prevent any acts of violence in connection with the presentation of their relief demands.

Four adults were arrested yesterday in front of the White House when a group of six children were sent there in a taxi as a part of a protest against "child misery."

Optional rates require the customer to choose between two or more rates. The commission has ordered the company to provide optional rates to its customers.

Probation System Discussed Before Rotary and Kiwanis

Chief Probation Officer P. J. Shelley of New York City was speaker at a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs held in the Governor Clinton Hotel last Wednesday at noon. His talk covered the history and present status of the probation system in New York City.

Following the luncheon several members of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs lent their services to the program. The meeting was held in the Governor Clinton Hotel last Wednesday at noon.

Suspicion Confirmed Four Voting Machines Were Tampered With

Report Shows That If Voting Machines Were Tested Prior to Election and Found in Good Working Order "It Was Manipulation Which Caused These Counters to Be Disconnected"—Report of Supervisors in Full.

Report of a committee of the board of county canvassers, made to the board of county canvassers, shows that four voting machines were tampered with in the county of Ulster. The report states that the machines were found to be in good working order when they were tested prior to the election, but that they were tampered with after the election.

The report states that the machines were found to be in good working order when they were tested prior to the election, but that they were tampered with after the election. The report also states that the supervisors of the machines were not notified of the tampering.

Sure, you can stand on your hands if you practice enough. But don't practice on yourself when you're constipated. Get a box of Feen-a-min next time you need a laxative. It's delicious chewing gum and simply because you chew it, all the laxative works every time. It's thorough yet gentle because it is evenly distributed the way modern science knows a good laxative ought to be. Safe. Non-habit-forming. Econo-mical. At all drug-gists.

SHANDAKEN.

Shandaken, Nov. 25.—A number of people from Shandaken attended the turkey supper at Riley C. Sanden's. Big Indian, on Saturday evening, under the auspices of the E. Church.

Mrs. M. D. Coons has returned from Kingston, where she has been spending several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Osterhout spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Osterhout's mother, Mrs. E. C. Churchill, Highland. There was the usual family reunion.

A. G. Brown is working at Roosevelt station, relieving Agent P. D. Leming for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brennan of Big Indian visited their daughter, Mrs. Abram Wood, on Sunday on their way to Florida, where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wood visited her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Butler, of Jersey City, over Thanksgiving.

Take Time to Think

You hear a lot about people who can think quickly. They think like a flash when there is an emergency. It's great to be able to do that, providing you always think the right thing. But if there is any doubt about it, take your time to think. It's better to take a little more time than to do some imitation quick-thinking which doesn't get you anywhere.—Grit.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

PETER MAKES A GREAT DISCOVERY

There's nothing like a little work to make the moments fly. The busier you keep yourself the faster they fly by.

PETER RABBIT sat in his favorite spot in the dear Old Briar Patch wholly out of sorts. It was a clear, cool, beautiful autumn day. Just such a day as makes you tingle all over with good feeling and high spirits. But Peter didn't tingle. No, sir, he didn't tingle a single wee bit as he sat there in the dear Old Briar Patch. He had tingled early that morning, but he didn't tingle now. All the joy and brightness had gone out of the beautiful day for Peter. The fact is Peter's feelings were hurt. That is what was the matter, his feelings were hurt.

"Loafer," mumbled Peter to himself. "They called me a loafer! Well, perhaps I am, but why shouldn't I loaf if I haven't anything to do? What harm is there in loafing when you have no work to do. I'd like to know!"

So Peter Went to Work Cutting Out Those Sly Brambles Which Had Crept Across His Little Path.

Striped Chipmunk called me a loafer. Chatterer the Red Squirrel called me a loafer. Happy Jack called me a loafer. Jerry Muskrat called me a loafer, and even little Danny Meadow Mouse called me a loafer. It wasn't so much the name as the way in which they said it. It seemed to me that they sort of despised me just because I wasn't working. If they have to work, and I suppose they do, it is all right; but I don't have to, and as long as I don't have to, why should they look down on me because I don't work? I should think they would envy me. It's a great deal nicer just to sit around and play.

Then a new thought struck Peter.

There was no fun in playing all alone. No, sir, there was no fun in playing all alone. He wanted some one to play with, and that was just why he had started out that morning to call on his neighbors, only to find them all so busy. Now it suddenly came over him that each had been working all alone and each had seemed perfectly happy. Could it be that they found happiness in their work? Peter stared thoughtfully down one of his private little paths through the brambles of the Old Briar Patch.

"I haven't any work to do," thought he. "There is no sense in working unless one has to, and I don't have to. There isn't a thing for me to do, so why shouldn't I loaf all I please?" He continued to stare down the private little path. Presently he noticed that a sly old bramble had crept across the private little path. Every time he hopped along that particular little path he had to hop over those brambles, all because he had been too lazy to cut them out.

"No, sir, there isn't a thing for me to do," said he again, and then with a funny feeling of guilt looked around to see if anyone had overheard him. You see it suddenly popped into his foolish little head that there was work for him to do, and had been for a long time. He simply had been too lazy to do it. Those sly brambles creeping across the little path in front of him should have been cut out long ago. Some time he might have to use that little path in a hurry, and one of those sly brambles might trip him up. Peter continued to stare down the little path for a few minutes longer. Then he got up and stretched.

"Seeing that everyone else seems to be working, I may as well do a little myself," said he. "I'll just cut those brambles out and get this path clear."

So Peter went to work cutting out those sly brambles which had crept across his private little path. There were more of them than he had thought for. When he had cleared that little path he went to another in which he remembered that the same thing had happened. Now Peter has many little paths through the dear Old Briar Patch, and most of them had been sadly neglected during the summer. Only those little Mrs. Peter used had been kept clear and open. As soon as he had one path clear Peter went to work on another. Presently he had forgotten all about his hurt feelings. It was surprising how fast time flew. Once more the day was bright and beautiful. Peter had made a great discovery. He had discovered that one never is so happy as when busy. He was no longer a loafer.

May Get Automobile Licenses December 1

Deputy County Clerk H. C. Finger, in charge of the Kingston office of the motor vehicle bureau, announces that 1933 registration plates for automobiles will be placed on sale December 1. He calls attention to the regulation of the motor vehicle bureau which provides that license plates shall be issued in strict numeric sequence, starting with 2,001. In order to lessen the "last minute rush" Mr. Finger urges the public to obtain their 1933 registrations as early as possible.

By an amendment to the vehicle and traffic law, registration for 1932 of commercial, omnibus, trailers, suburban and ambulance is extended to February 28, 1933. This class of vehicles is not permitted to renew registration for 1933 until on and after February 15, 1933. For a vehicle which was not registered during 1932 the application may be accepted on and after December 1, but the plates may not be displayed on the vehicle until on and after January 1, 1933.

Registrants will also have to use more care in filling out their application blanks this year as notice has been received that the allotment of applications has been reduced, in line with the attempt to reduce state expenditures and that a request for an additional quantity will not be considered.

SEE ATTENDED UNION SERVICES UPTOWN.

The union Thanksgiving service in the old First Dutch Church Thanksgiving Day drew an audience of 200 people. Dr. Gates of the Elmendorf Street Presbyterian Church, spoke on "Thanksgiving and Courage." It was a message calculated to make the audience forget the depression and to live in hope and to take courage. Several ministers participated in the service, which, according to promise, closed when the church clock struck 11. The offering for the Industrial Home amounted to $55.65.

Volunteer Aid Committee Report

The Volunteer Aid Committee wishes to submit the following report for the week ending, November 19.

During just one week, 226 pieces of second hand clothing have been given out, and 314 pieces of new goods itemized as follows:

57 pairs hose
8 dresses
62 suits of underwear
62 pairs shoes
18 pairs rubbers
14 children's coat sets
9 girls' winter coats
15 wind breakers
2 boys' suits
13 shirts
21 pairs knickers
3 boys' heavy coats

Since September 14, when this welfare work began, 7,493 pieces of clothing have been given out. The crying demand now is for warmer coats for men, women and children. No doubt there are many people in the city who could help the less fortunate ones by passing on used warm clothing which they have on hand. Any such articles may be sent to the welfare rooms over the Woolworth store on Wall street, or call 715 and the committee will be glad to call for any contributions.

The committee gratefully acknowledges the gift of $100 from the Elks Lodge and $10 from the Ladies' Auxiliary of Welner Hose Company.

If there are organizations or individuals who feel that they would like to furnish a basket for some worthy family at Christmas time, the Volunteer Aid Committee will gladly give the names of needy ones who would appreciate such a gift.

PILES

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Suffering

If you think a surgical operation is the only way to get rid of itching, bleeding or protruding Piles, it's because you haven't heard of the harmless internal medicine discovered by a prominent western physician.

After years of study, Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the cause of Piles to be internal congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins flabby; the bowel walls weak; the parts almost dead. Right away the doctor set to work to find a real internal remedy. He succeeded, and after prescribing it for 1000 patients, with success in over 900 cases, he named his prescription HEM-ROID.

The doctor wants every Pile sufferer to benefit by his discovery, and so there will be no doubting or delay McBride Drug Stores and druggists everywhere are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee of money back if it does not end Piles in any form.

So why waste time on external treatment or think of an operation when HEM-ROID tablets are guaranteed.

the purpose of appropriating money already on hand for buying electric fixtures and current charges for approximately six months ending May 10, which covers the date of the annual school meeting night.

There was a unanimous affirmative vote supporting a motion that $49 be appropriated for the above purpose at the discretion of the trustee, Charles H. Weidner. Judge Fred L. Weidner was unanimously elected clerk of the meeting and Mr. Weidner, Jr. as chairman.

Two Overheads Get Together.
First Overhead—Did you hear about my operation? I.....
Second Overhead—Your operation! Let me tell you about my operation: I had a whole department taken out at one time.....
First Overhead—That's nothing. I had two vice presidents and a sales manager removed at one time, and that was only a month after I had lost eight of my clerks and half a dozen stenographers.....
Second Overhead—You don't say! Well, I have been on the table three times during the last year. The doctor made pretty deep incisions every time, too. They say that I may have to have another operation soon; there is a swollen condition in one department that ought to be reduced.
First Overhead—Isn't it sickening? Now, when I had three of my salesmen taken out, I thought I'd never get over it but I feel fine now. It is a dreadful nuisance, but I guess it's all for the best.
Second Overhead—I suppose so. Did I ever tell you about the time they cut off my branch office?.....

Three fellows—a doctor, an architect and a bolshevik—were talking together, and each claimed that his kind was the oldest and most important.

The Doctor—When Adam's side was opened to take out a rib to make a woman—that was the first surgical operation.

The Architect—Yes, but when the earth was made of chaos, before Adam's time, there had to be building plans—and an architect had to make them.

The Bolshevist—You are right, but who supplied the chaos?

Joseph—I envy that fat woman when she laughs.

Harold—Why?

Joseph—There seems to be so much of her that is having a good time.

The ideal wife is one who doesn't treat her husband as though she thought he was personally responsible for the depression.

A Man—Columbus wasn't an explorer, he was a prophet.

Herbert—You are the most beautiful woman in the world.

Janice—Oh! how quick you are at noticing things.

Backfire—One thing you can say about a bicycle is that you don't have to crank it, and the thing rarely backfires..... The biggest money problem confronting women these days is how to extract it from their husbands..... Another good mental test is to figure out what becomes of the money you save since living costs become cheaper.

Judge—How did you come to cause all this disturbance?

Woman on Trial—Well, it was like this. John and I were sitting at the fire. John was reading his newspaper and I was thinking. Then I turned to him and said: "John, sheep are awful stupid, aren't they?" And John said: "Yes, my lamb."

Doormat Domesticity..... When a woman takes in washing for two dollars a week, that's labor. When she does it for nothing, that's LOVE!

Bride—I tried a cooking idea of my own, and my husband said it's better try it on the dog first. Wasn't that cruel?

Friend—Very! And I thought your husband was very fond of dogs.

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston: "You Said A Mouthful." Joe E. Brown again scores in this comedy riot that was created especially for him, and gives him every opportunity of capitalizing on his peculiar screen talent. Again he's the boy who makes good, and the laughs come thick and fast as Mr. Brown breezes through the scenes. Ginger Rogers is the love interest, and Farina, of "Our Gang" fame, does a good job in his first feature picture. For plenty of laughs, don't miss this one.

Orpheum: "Crooner" and "Okay America." An excellent and diversified double feature offering, the first talkie being a timely story of a radio crooner whose popularity turns his head. The principals are Ann Dvorak and David Manners. "Okay America" is a newspaper columnist story, and Lew Ayres as the gossip columnist, is given his finest part in many months. Action, thrills, humor and suspense are all blended in to this fast moving story. A program worth seeing.

Broadway: "Air Mail." Here's a thriller of the U. S. Air Mail service that is rare entertainment for those who like excitement and action in their talkies. The plot moves along briskly throughout, there are some thrilling airplane scenes, and a fine cast that includes Ralph Bellamy, Pat O'Brien, Lillian Bond, Gloria Stuart, Leslie Fenton, Russell Hopton, and David Landau. The dangers that face the air mail pilot in his journey alive and real. Storms, fogs, night, all of these dangers must be battled with; for the mails must be delivered. That is the theme of the story. Grand entertainment.

London History in Models
For more than 20 years J. B. Thorpe, an English model maker, has devoted all his spare time to modeling portions of old London. At a remarkable exhibition of his work which he had been holding, two of the most interesting models have been his 20-foot replica of London bridge in 1630, and his detailed copy of the lord mayor's show of 1816. Over 200 figures about six inches high had to be made for this model.

CORDED WEAVING
LEADS IN FAVOR

There is a distinct corded influence in the winter's fashions. Wool, silk, velvet and mixtures all show a tendency to corded weaving.

It is not confined only to clothes for sports wear, as formerly, but appears in clothes of all varieties. Many of the newest evening dresses are of a corded velvet which approaches corduroy in weave, but is sheer in texture.

Corded woollens, launched in Paris last season, are already established as classic materials. They are favorites for the sturdy type of coat or suit which is destined for wear in difficult weather.

Dreammakers like the possibilities they offer in design, for a slight change in the direction of the cords by means of adroit cutting, can work a whole design into a costume without the addition of any ornament.

Change Hairdressing
to Follow Dress Style

Changes in dress styles, and especially those that have taken place this season, demand a decided change in hairdressing.

An inferiority complex of the worst sort is lying in wait for the woman who attempts to wear those charming shallow-crowned hats that leave almost the entire back of the head bare, unless she speeds with winged feet to an authority on hairdressing, one well-versed and of long experience in making the hair conform to fashion and beauty.

To enhance the charm of a woman's hair and face, and to blend them with her clothes into a picture of beauty, requires unusual talent—a sculptor's knowledge of plastic form and a painter's feeling for delicate colors.

Waffle Weave Is Latest
for Street and Sports

In street and sports dresses the material is the new thing. Silk crepes again resemble rough woollens. This season one new material is known as "triple sheer," being three times the thickness of georgette crepe. The waffle weave, modeled after that well-known breakfast dish, is new and smart.

ACCORD

Accord, Nov. 25—Rochester Reformed Church, Sunday, November 27—Bible school at 9:30 a. m. Divine worship at 10:30 a. m. Sermon subject, "How to Enjoy Real Comfort."

The Mettacahton's Sunday school will meet at the home of E. P. Osterhout at 2 p. m. on Sunday, November 27.

The commemoration of the Lord's Supper will be observed in the Rochester Reformed Church on Sunday, December 4, at 10:30 a. m.

There will be divine worship in the Cherrytown Reformed Church on Sunday, November 27 at 2 p. m.

The Patron, Grange will meet on Monday, November 28, at 8 p. m. in the basement of the Rochester Reformed Church. The lecturer's hour will consist of the discussion of "Everyday Danger Signals."

The Rev. and Mrs. Scholten attended Mr. Cornell's funeral in Woodstock on Tuesday. About 30 young people from around here gave Mabel Hendrickson a surprise party on her birthday, November 22. It was a most enjoyable event and a complete surprise to Mabel. She received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Fashions by Eleanor Gunn

Fabrics Are Having a Rough Time of It

New York—You are quite likely to run across the word "craquelé" in reading fashion reports, and you may not know that it refers to fabrics with a blistered surface. So many fabrics have that crinkled look this year. There is every reason to suppose that such surfaces will continue, as reports from the source stream pebbled and crinkled crepes and other fabrics not only for winter but for resort wear, which also means for early spring.

Novelty fabrics have contributed a great deal to the fashion interest of this season and they can be relied on to continue to do so. There are plaids more or less everywhere and smart-looking stripes. There is a hairy diagonal among the newer fabrics. Cross-bar etamine is another—in fact several varieties of etamine are making their appearance.

Novelty coat fabrics are also wanted, in out-of-the-ordinary colors, such as purples and reds and greens, also some of the new violet-blues. Color contrast is attained usually with fur, but there are some noteworthy instances of wool with velvet. Fur worked into the body of the coat is very good and fur borders, vertical instead of horizontal, are very chic when either Persian lamb or such fur as marten, mink or sable is chosen.

The coachman's coat, having a shoulder cape, is one of the most approved of the winter's long list of silhouettes. Coats of this type are usually made with the cape detachable. Capes worn with the opening at the back are very chic.

Another highly approved model is the swag coat, shorter than the dress and often with raglan sleeves. This may be of fur, fur trimmed, or without fur—the last version being smartest for this particular type.

MORE RUSSIAN INFLUENCES

Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild.

A coat of olive green suede cloth mounts the full sleeves, below the shoulder, by cartridge pleats. Bands of sable border the neckline and front and form wrist bands. The hat is developed in matching fabric.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Vivid colors are claimed for evening—the vivid pinks, either of coral or, as Mainbocher prefers them, in geranium, being outstanding. Others are fuchsia, hyacinth, light rosy reds, and yellow-greens.

Party Pelts

So great has been the variety of furs used for evening—sable, mink, kolinsky, ermine, fox, chinchilla rat—that finally designers decided to extend the plot to furs always considered as daytime types, so the lamb family made its evening debut on gowns and jackets. Black Persian lamb on white is striking, and gray krimmer on red has that daring look. The most interesting fad is the pastel hat. Bright hats have been usual in previous football seasons. But this year pastels are newest.

OUR DAILY PATTERN

A Pleasing School Frock

7725. Striped gingham is here combined, with linen. One could use cotton tweed or repp. Velvet is also suggested. The frock may have the sleeve in wrist length as in the large view or short as in the small view, and finished with an upturned cuff. Plaits below lengthwise seams give additional width. This is a very comfortable model, simple of construction and one easy to develop and launder.

Designed in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 will require 1 1/4 yard of 54 inch material with 3/4 yard of 35 inch contrasting material. If made with long sleeves. With short sleeves 1 1/4 yard will be required. If made in monotone it will require 1 1/4 yard.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Garden Varieties

Little Thelma Jane, on hearing the growl speak of the old-fashioned flowers in her mother's garden, was impressed by the names of the various vines and plants.

Two of her aunts came for a visit. After lunch she asked them to go with her and see the flowers. When they reached the garden, she called out: "Oh Aunt Alma, come over here and see the holly-hops; they are in bloom, and over on this side is foxglove."

Christmas at
TB Hospital

Christmas will be as different as two Christmases can be at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital this year from what it was last year.

Last year there were nineteen patients carried to the hospital for the Christmas festival, many of them desperately ill with little or no hope of recovery.

This year there are 48 patients at the hospital and it is expected and hoped that most of them will recover their health entirely.

But they are ill at a hospital just the same, away from home and loved ones because that safeguards those they love best.

That means that the people of Ulster county, who have the Tuberculosis Hospital and its patients close to their hearts at all times, will be wanting to make Christmas particularly happy to the shut-ins at the hospital for the first real big Christmas celebration when the hospital is serving so many who are ill but can be made well.

ing so many who are ill but can be made well.

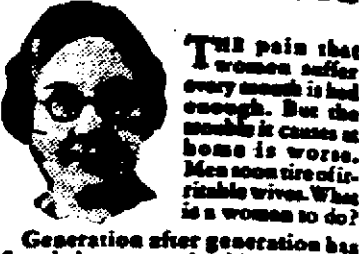

This year there is a large Woman's Auxiliary of the hospital and these ladies will be glad to see that Christmas is indeed merry at the hospital according to the generosity of the people of Ulster county. Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, wife of Superintendent Dr. Frederic Holcomb, is president of the Auxiliary and this year people are asked to send their contributions of money for the purchase of gifts, or gifts to Mrs. Holcomb, 168 Fair street, or telephone her about them, the number being 116.

For some 25 years, Mrs. Clara Norton Reed received these gifts and passed them on with a Christmas entertainment to the patients of the old hospital, becoming increasingly amazed and overjoyed at the growing generosity of the people of the county. She asks for even a greater generosity and interest in this coming Christmas for the patients and hopes that Mrs. Holcomb, whom she hopes to help, will be overwhelmed with checks however small or large in time to buy the gifts for the Christmas festival. And to those who enjoy the privilege of thus giving, it may be said that from the Christmas fund each patient has one gift given them, that they especially want, besides the general gifts.

AVOID THE DANGER OF CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Overcomes
This Condition Safely and Pleasantly

The first signs of constipation may be headaches, tired feelings, sallow complexion, sleeplessness, loss of appetite. If neglected, constipation may seriously impair health.

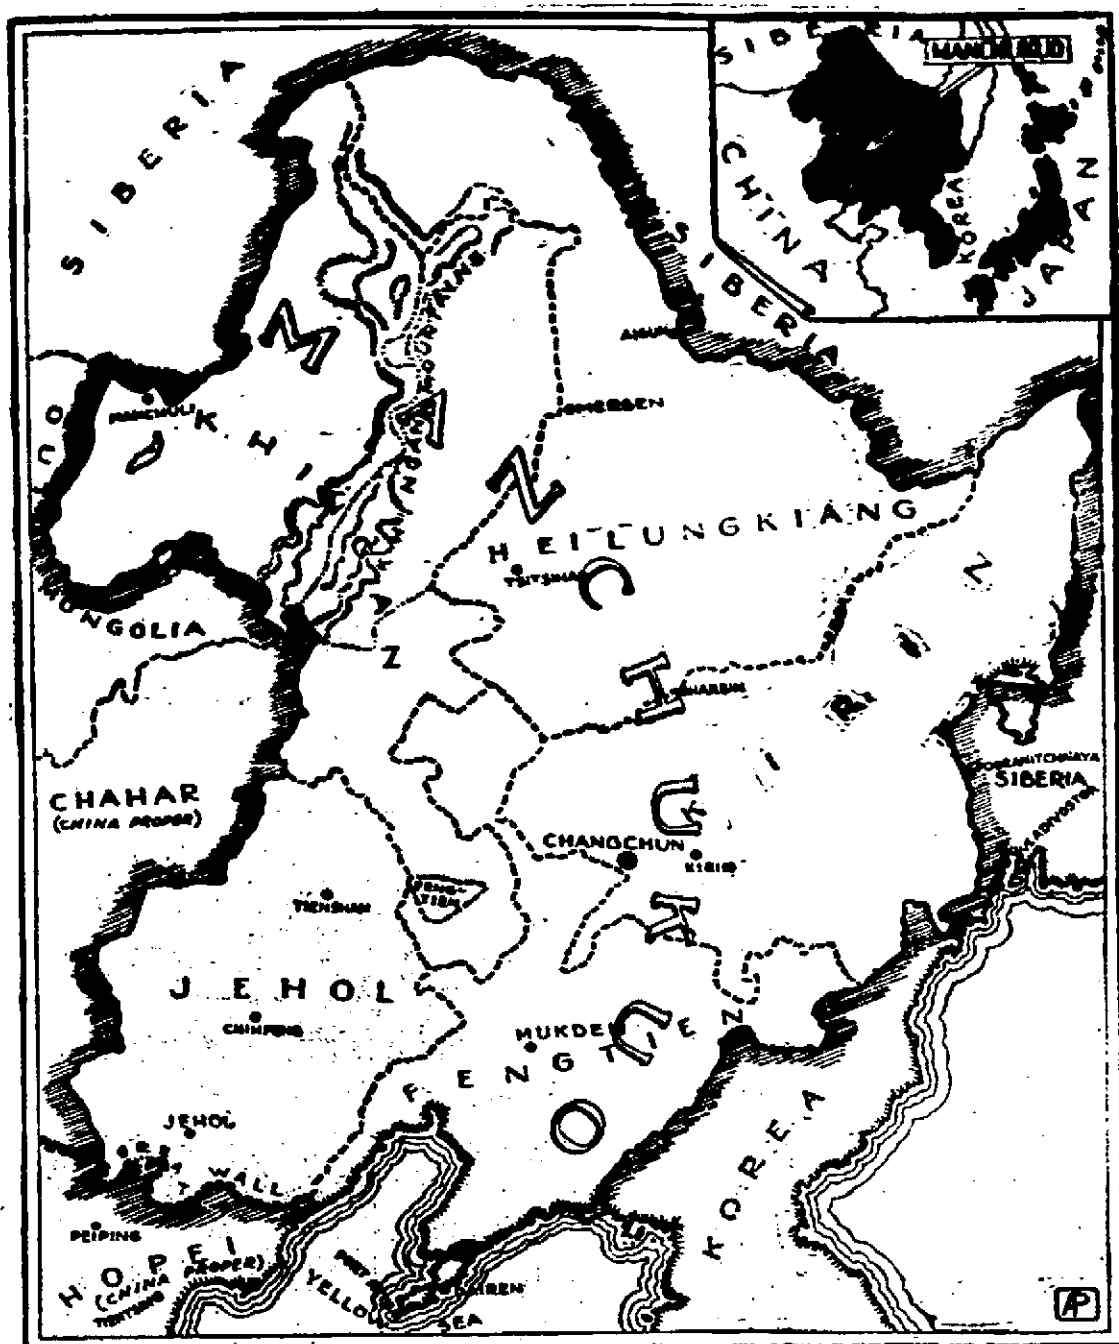

Today, you can banish constipation by simply eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to stimulate the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a good source of iron for the blood.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action similar to leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, and gently cleans out the intestinal wastes.

Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of common constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Reproduced above, it shows Manchukuo as including the former provinces of Fengtien, Kirin, Heilungkiang and Jehol. A fifth province, Khing-an, has been created out of parts of Fengtien and Heilungkiang. Inset shows Manchukuo in relation to other countries, and also the portion of China proper which has been added to the old Manchuria to form the new state.

CAST OF CLARE TREE
MAJOR CHILDREN'S THEATRE

The cast of the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre, which will present "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" at the Broadway Theatre on December 9, is a large one. Among the players is Miss Dorothy Slater, who enacts the role of the wicked Queen. Miss Slater comes of an old theatrical family and is a granddaughter of George L. Fox, who owned the old Bowery Theatre and produced many noted extravaganzas. Miss Slater has been on the stage practically all her life. Among the New York productions in which she has appeared are "Fountain and Periwinkle," "Lombardi, Ltd.," with Leo Carrillo, "Naughty Cinderella" with Irene Bardoni, and "Fata Morgana."

Others in the cast are George Thornton and Paul Paulus, two dwarfs who measure a trifle under four feet. Mr. Thornton has appeared on the stage and in moving pictures for many years, notably with Leona Ulric, Al Jolson, Irene Bardoni, and as a clown with Ringling Brothers' Circus. Mr. Paulus has appeared in many of the Fred Stone shows.

Supervisors Held
Session Wednesday

A short session of the board of supervisors was held Wednesday evening with 30 supervisors present. At the regular session routine business was transacted and then sitting as a county board of canvassers the board received the report of the vote cast at the last general election and also reports as to why certain voting machines had failed to register. These reports in regard to the canvass of the vote and the report in regard to the failure of the voting machines to register will be found in another column.

A communication was received from County Treasurer Rice stating that a communication had been received from the State Department of Audit and Control to the effect that Ulster County's share of the Employers Retirement Fund was $2,100 for the year and that it would be necessary to raise that amount by taxation. Referred to committee on County Treasurer and Sealer.

A communication was received from the Kingston Board of Fire Commissioners stating that the commissioners had adopted a resolution to the effect that no further calls would be answered outside the city by the local firemen, due to the fact that no water was usually available, except when such call for aid was verified by a city, town or village officer when the community calling would assume responsibility for any damage to equipment which might arise while responding to such calls for aid. Received and filed.

Clerk DeWitt announced that in all probability the committee on equalization would be ready to report at the Monday evening session. The committee on Highway Accounts will also be ready at that time with its report.

The following resolutions were presented and went over under the rule:

BUSINESS MEN URGE HERRIOT TO ADOPT RECIPROCITY PLAN

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Paris (AP)—Gradual abandonment of the much criticized quota system of limiting French imports is being considered by the government of Edouard Herriot.

Various officials have disclosed the possibility of such a change, chiefly in connection with negotiations for new trade treaties.

American business interests in Paris, however, have held aloof from the proposal. Their attitude is that quotas and tariffs form separate problems and the American Chamber of Commerce declined to approach the government on the subject.

Instead the chamber is relying on the proposed new commercial pact with the United States to take care of the situation arising from the quotas.

But French business men, chiefly exporters, have been urging that the quotas be suppressed in favor of a more liberal policy that will insure reciprocity to France's exports.

Eager to forward their ideas, they have told M. Herriot that they are inviting foreign producers of the same kind to a meeting here early next year.

Protective Idea Rules

The French exporters have stated and the contemplated policy of the officials seems to be, that any increase in duties should be light and should be applied only where obviously needed for the protection of French goods at home.

The exporters have argued that the quota regime, under which the volume of importations from various countries is restricted to specific amounts every three months, not only has failed to balance French trade, but has deprived the national treasury of revenue, and has created an unfavorable attitude toward France in some foreign quarters. Julien Durand, minister of commerce, consequently, is understood to have asked French trade associations what increased tariffs are considered necessary in case the quota system is discarded.

That France was seeking means of renouncing the system was reported by P. Elbel, director of commercial affairs in the commerce ministry, to the preparatory commission of the proposed world economic and monetary conference, which has been meeting at Geneva.

Asks International Action
These means, he suggested, might be found, first, in the development of industrial ententes and, secondly, in a light increase of tariff rates on goods not included in such ententes.

But he said that under such a scheme duties would be increased only in proportion to an increase of the goods entering France. Hence, he added, international regulation of production and prices was necessary.

The issue of quotas or tariffs is closely linked with negotiations for new commercial agreements with the United States and Germany.

Both Herriot and Durand have expressed France's desire for reciprocity in the new accords, suggesting that defensive measures would be taken against countries practicing either excessive protectionism against France or "dumping" goods into this country.

Herriot for Reciprocity
"We must at the same time defend our internal production and preserve our foreign markets," M. Herriot told his radical socialist party at Pauillers recently. "In order that other nations may buy, they must have access to our markets."
Declaring that France has no desire to create a "closed economic system," the premier said: "We wish to adopt a policy of reciprocity having for its base parity of concessions, advantages and good treatment."

Rat Trap Watch Charm

A rat trap of gold is one of the many royal relics and curiosities which was exhibited in public for the first time this fall in the king's palace of Stockholm. It is small and enameled, and made for a watchcharm rather than for use. Snuff boxes in precious metals, deformed bullets extracted from the wounds of Swedish kings, jeweled decorations and odd mementoes found in various Swedish palaces, miniature portraits of princes and even royal regalia found in the tombs of kings are included.

Washington's Money Chest

A money chest, once the property of George Washington, is owned by Jewel Dodd in Batesville, Ark. The chest is twelve inches long, five inches wide and three inches deep. It is hand made of red wood and is decorated with brass nails. It is covered with well-worn walrus hide.

India's Oldest Man 129

The title of "India's oldest man" is claimed by Sadhu Kalyandas Ramdas of Kurali. He is one hundred and twenty-nine, and can remember events 115 years ago. Sadhu is a devotee of Vishnu. He recalls the fall of the last Peshwa, hereditary head of the Maratha state, in 1817.

SHORT SMILES

Lessening His Wants

Mother—Baby has a new tooth!
Father—Well, that's one thing less for him to cry for.

All Gone

Jack—I've lost all my friends.
Jim—How?
Jack—I sold my car.

Must Be

Biff—Those two boneheads are having a battle of wits.
Ramm—Oh, a sham battle!

Effect of Shock

Cutlip—Why can't you sleep?
Heald—Well, you see, everytime I fall asleep the jar awakes me.

Hada't Tried It

Jim (at rice track)—Are you a pretty good judge of horsemanship?
Joe—I don't know. Never ate any.

Just So

Amos—How do you like the new two-piece bathing suits?
Andy—Eyes requested!

Literally

Spendaleet—Well, how has everything gone since I last saw you?
Harrop—Everything's gone!

Cruel

Addie Noyd—I just came from the beauty parlor.
Lum Bago—And they were closed!

Cynical Youngster

"Yes, my boy, the whole creation was made in seven days."
"Well, it looks it."

Safety First

"Did you tell Mr. Beinhall that he is father of triplets?"
"No, he is still shaving."

No Need of Mechanism

"I've got to buy a billfold."
"What's the matter? Can't you fold them by hand?"—Life.

Not Applied

"Why do you speak of your husband as a theory?"
"Because he so seldom works."—Life.

That Much Sure

Eve—Aren't you sorry for my father? He has the gout.
Adam—Sure. I have no kick coming.

Paragon and White House

According to the Christian Herald, during one-fourth of our nationhood there have been paragon children presiding over the White House. Abigail Adams was the daughter of a Congregational minister. The wives of both Millard Fillmore and Franklin Pierce were paragon born. James A. Garfield was an ordained minister. Grover Cleveland was the descendant of a long line of ministerial forebears. Mrs. Benjamin Harrison was the daughter of Rev. John W. Scott. Both Woodrow Wilson and his first wife were paragon children. James Madison studied for the ministry in his youth. Chester A. Arthur was the son of a Baptist minister. Helen Mitchell Hoover was a Quaker preacher, while Lou Henry Hoover is the granddaughter of a Methodist minister.

Wonderful Bird Flights

The bi-annual flight of the chunky bob-o-link across 700 miles of the Caribbean sea is a remarkable performance. It is only matched, perhaps, by those of the larger plover and the tern. The first flies 2,900 miles without a stop from Nova Scotia to South America, while the second commutes between the Arctic and Antarctic ice, making an estimated 22,000 miles a year.

Locust Has Appalling

Record of Destruction

In spite of fuller knowledge of the life and habits of the grasshopper, the discovery that he emerges from permanent breeding grounds and does not materialize from the ether to satisfy the vengeance of a deity, and some improvement in the methods of exterminating him and curbing his activities, this insect still manages to do about as he likes.

In many countries and in all periods of history he has left his record of destruction. The most appalling report of his depredations comes from the pen of St. Augustine, who tells of a plague in Numidia which resulted in the death of 500,000 men. Pliny writes of swarms of African locusts that crossed the Mediterranean to Italy in his time. South Africa has suffered keenly from swarms of migratory locusts, and great damage is done by them to the crops of Argentina and Chile.

In many cases on record they are spoken of as having "come down from the north," whether the regions they victimize are in Africa, Chile or the United States. The recognized permanent breeding grounds of one species, the Rocky mountain locust, are in Montana and the western part of the Dakotas. This was the species that in the seventies were the aggressors in the greatest grasshopper plague known to this country.

Hollanders in National

Dress on Market Days

Quaint indeed is the custom in Middelburg, Holland, which decrees, and always has, that one goes to market in one's national dress. In effect, it means one's best clothes, but the same style as grandma and grandpa wore. Black is the universal color for men and women.

The men wear rather tight black coats of a cloth which they say lasts for thirty years. Big gold clasps decorate their necks. Tiny pin-cushion-shaped caps, or alternatively bowlers of the George Robey variety, as we know it, are the vogue.

Women dress somberly in black with almost crisscross-shaped shirts to their feet and wear snow-white handkerchiefs, beneath which glow their natural complexion. Powder, rouge and lip paint are unknown. They arrive at the market in this medieval dress—mounted on bicycles.

VICKS COUGH DROP

... All you've hoped for in a Cough Drop—medicated with ingredients of VICKS Vapo-Rub.

Ducks' Varied Diet

"Puddle ducks" have such a varied diet that they will eat almost anything from a mosquito to a dragon fly, from a tadpole to a crawfish, or from a tiny duckweed to a hard-shelled hickory nut. The latter object, unbelievable as it may seem, may be ground to bits in the gizzards of the larger species. The principal part of the diet consists, however, of vegetable matter derived from an immense variety of aquatic plants.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—The stock market slid off to the lowest levels in three weeks today, with heaviness of sterling exchange and the wheat market evidently contributing to the decline.

Selling abated somewhat after midday, however, and a number of issues that had lost 1 to 3 points recovered fractionally. Brokers said the most encouraging aspect of the market was still the moderate amount of selling.

Coca Cola continued its decline, getting down 3 points at the lowest. Air Reduction and Corn Products lost about as much, then recovered a little. Issues of a point or two included Allied Chemical, American Can, American Telephone, Case, Eastman, Macy, National Biscuit, McKeesport, North American, Pub.

Spinny's Defeat McCormack Five

Thanksgiving night at Pythian Hall, Port Ewen, the Spinny Radio Five defeated the McCormacks of Poughkeepsie by the score of 30-29 in a closely fought contest that starred Hank Krum, center of the home team, as the highest individual scorer with 11 points.

Preliminary to the main game, the Spinny Aces defeated the Kingston Senecas, 32-29.

ROSENDALE GRANGE WILL MEET ON MONDAY

Rosendale, Nov. 25.—The program known as "Rosendale Night" was given at the last regular meeting of the Grange and was very much enjoyed by about 125 patrons.

The program follows:
Song by Grange—Tenting Tonight
Priests March—Violin and piano by Frank Benda and Aurelia Benda.
Recitation—Let Us Forget
Katherine Huben
Address—New Palts Normal
Marjorie Mihalka
Pep Songs—Jingle Bells and Old Black Joe
Grange Angels Serenade—Piano and violin by Miss Letty Lundy and Mrs. Eva Mihalka.
Dance—Two Saucy Chicks—Aurelia Benda and Helen Smith. Pianist Mrs. F. Dallas Rovere.

The next regular meeting of the Rosendale Grange will be held Monday night, November 28. At this time the election of officers will take place for the ensuing year. A large attendance is looked for.

The refreshment committee includes Mrs. Allan McKenzie, Mrs. Charles DeWitt, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zegel, Mr. and Mrs. Ruter TenHagen, Frank and Aurelia Benda, Frank McCordie, the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Gratton, Mrs. Mary DuBois, Beatrice DuBois, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wesp, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Roosa, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Urbell, Anna Urbell and Helen Pomeroy.

Agent Made Bay.
Joseph A. Severino, of 23-A Washington street, Poughkeepsie, made the mistake of selling alleged illegal liquor to an investigator of the Kingston prohibition office Wednesday and as a result was arrested and arraigned before Commissioner Platt. The officers also seized alleged whiskey, gin and beer.

Infantile Paralysis
"Byron, who had club feet possibly resulting from infantile paralysis, or poliomyelitis as the doctors call it, was fond of athletics and found that his handicap did not apply when he was in the water. From constant exercise in water he became so strong that he eventually was able to swim the length of the pool. Dr. John E. Baker told readers of Bygone Magazine in his article entitled, 'Tells.'"

Mc Service of N. J. Sears, Union Carbide, and Owens Illinois Glass. U. S. Steel sagged only a fraction. Ralls were helped by car loadings reports, and held about unchanged. Standard and brands sagged a fraction on reduction of its dividend. General Foods, however, was up a major fraction.

The possible effects of lower levels for sterling exchange and the currencies which move with it, on world commodity price levels, was a subject of much conjecture. Standard Statistics Co., in a special commodity survey, mentioned the weakness of sterling as unsettling, but said "the action of general prices in the past five months suggests that the commodity markets generally are almost immune from further shocks of a depressing nature, barring, of course, a world catastrophe."

Some selling or switching was reported in the share market for income tax purposes. There was said to be little selling from abroad, and some international banking quarters expressed the view that pending, at least, partial clarification of political uncertainties, particularly regarding our federal budget, a large amount of foreign capital would again flow into this market.

Quotations given by Parker, McElroy & Co., members, N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York City; branch office, Stuyvesant Hotel.

DAIRY FACTS

COW'S FUTURE IN HER HEIFER DAYS

Development Then of High Importance.

Well-grown heifers can act their age when they join the milking herd and start to pay profits. S. H. Werk of the New York State College of Agriculture cites the example of Tidy, a cow used in the protea experiment herd at the college, bought four years ago as a five-year-old.

Tidy, he says, was thin and had never had her full growth. The first year her high day milking was 50 pounds of milk. She was fed well during the first dry period, and in other dry periods, so that she gained about 250 pounds in weight. The second year her high day milking was 60 pounds, and this year, as a nine-year-old, her high day's milking was 90 pounds.

Tidy's case shows that it is important to develop heifers when they are young if real cows are desired when they freshen. The first four years in the experimental herd should have been Tidy's best years if she had been well grown and fully developed. Mr. Werk points out.

Occasional Stirring of Milk in Can Advisable

It is much more difficult to reduce the temperature of the creamy layer of milk in the top of a milk can than that in the bottom, and yet it is the top layer that needs the most rapid cooling. The cooling of a can of milk, set in a tank of water, proceeds as follows: The warmer milk in the can that is being cooled, because it is lighter, rises to the top along with the fat globules of cream. For the same reason, the warmer water next to the can rises to the top.

As the warmer milk rises, it picks up bacteria, so that the top layer soon contains a higher bacterial count than the lower layers. And when a can of milk at 90 degrees F. is put in water at 50 degrees, the water close to the can at once starts rising toward the surface. This layer increases until in half an hour a layer 2 inches deep will be found to be from 10 to 15 degrees warmer than the water at the bottom. This explains why the layer of milk and cream at the top not only contains a larger proportion of bacteria than the lower layers, but also why it is the most difficult to cool. It further explains why the occasional stirring of milk in the can, as well as water in the tank, when the can is first placed therein, brings about more rapid cooling of the milk.—Wallace Farmer.

Feeding Shock Fodder

Shock fodder late in the season is not as palatable, nor will it be eaten with as little loss as fodder which has just been harvested. The palatability of fodder in the spring can be greatly improved, however, by grinding and mixing the ground fodder with the grain ration or with ground hay.

At the South Dakota experiment station, bundle corn stover was fed to dairy cattle and it was found that 86 per cent of this feed was refused by the cows and was wasted. When the corn stover was ground for these cows, they ate it with no waste whatever. Even for fattening steers, fodder can be fed with good results if it is ground and fed mixed with the grain ration.

At this time of the year, there is still shock fodder in the fields. None of this feed need be wasted. If it is made more palatable, it will be consumed by cattle with no waste whatever and can be of much value in helping the hay to last until pastures are ready.—Exchange.

Drinking Cups; More Milk

Oscar Hammer, Dakota county, Minn., has found that drinking cups in his barn have not only saved a lot of work, but have also greatly increased the milk production of his herd. Within two weeks in early spring this had amounted to 25 gallons each day for the herd of 25 cows, as compared to the previous yield. He has observed that cows, like people, drink more often when the supply is convenient, particularly when eating. At least four pounds of water are required for each pound of milk produced so that any increase in consumption of water is usually followed by correspondingly larger yields such as reported by Mr. Hammer. He has also recently installed a milking machine with which he can milk the cows in about an hour and ten minutes, which is a great saving in time over hand milking.—Exchange.

How Much Water?

W. H. Martin, of the Kansas State college, stated, following experiments, that it requires six to seven gallons of well water to cool a gallon of milk, and if the cooling is done in cans it takes 30 to 40 minutes time. Several types of surface coolers have been studied at Michigan Agricultural college, and most of them required the above amount of water for efficient cooling, but the cooling was done much faster, according to Martin's Dairyman.

BYPATHS OF HISTORY

Pope Felix V resigned in honor of Pope Nicholas V.

The painter, Bastian Lepage, died of cancer of the stomach.

Burke and Reynolds marched in Goldsmith's funeral procession.

Reading the Bible was at one time a capital offense in the Low countries.

The poet, William Cowper, was descended by four different lines from King Henry III of England.

The Bastille column in Paris is crowned with a gilded figure representing the Genius of Liberty.

Johann Baptist Altdorfer (1492-1537), German poet and scholar, knew the whole of the "Aeneid" by heart.

John Wesley, the Methodist evangelist, "loved riding and walking, was an expert swimmer, and enjoyed a game of tennis."

Queen Elizabeth left a wardrobe of 6,000 dresses. They became the property of Queen Anne of Denmark, wife of King James I, Elizabeth's successor on the British throne.

Count Lennart Torstensson (1603-1651), Swedish soldier, was crippled by gout and unable to mount a horse, but he led his troops to victory in a litter carried by servants.

HOMESPUN YARN

Mirrors become cloudy if exposed to strong sunlight.

For a sweet-flavored cottage cheese the milk should sour rapidly.

If baked potatoes are split or pricked as soon as they are cooked, they are not likely to be soggy.

Kitchen lights should be placed so that the worker's shadow will not fall on her work at the table, stove, or sink.

Porch mats wear longer if they are placed on a frame of metal or wooden lattice work, which permits ventilation and drying underneath the mat.

If it is necessary to let peaches peeled for canning stand before cooking, cover them with a weak salt solution to prevent darkening. Use one teaspoonful of salt to each quart of water.

WHIPPETS

All things come to him who waits on himself.

Bald-headed barbers invariably tell hair-raising stories.

What a pity wisdom doesn't grow on a man like whiskers!

The woman who seldom makes remarks is remarkable.

It's strange, but well water has been known to make people ill.

The happiest part of a man's life is spent lying awake in bed in the morning.

Judge a man by the depth of his knowledge rather than by the width of his waist.

A champion is a fellow who gets beaten two or three times in a week and keeps on calling himself a champion.

ODDITIES

Louisiana has an area of 447,000 acres suitable to oyster culture.

The chimpanzee has been known to Europeans for 500 years.

The infantile paralysis microbe is only five thousandths of an inch long.

The greatest depth in the Atlantic ocean is 27,972 feet—near Porto Rico.

Each pound of fish caught by an angler represents an expenditure of 33.

A penny thrown into the water always turns flat before sinking to the bottom.

Greenland is the largest island in the world after the island continent, Australia.

The value of diamonds owned by residents of the United States exceeds $4,000,000,000.—Grit.

IGNORANCE

Ignorance shuts its eyes and believes it is right.

He that knows least commonly presumes most.

He who is afraid of asking is ashamed of learning.

It is very well now and then not to remember all we know.

He that boasts of his own knowledge precludes his ignorance.

To be conscious you are ignorant is a great step towards knowledge.

STANDSTILL TO JAIL

Peter Van Leuven, 59, of Gardiner, and Irving Van Leuven, 44, of New Palts, were sentenced to the Ulster county jail Wednesday by Justice Joseph Deyo on charges of public intoxication and disorderly conduct. Peter was given 60 days in jail, Irving being let off with 10 days.

J.; two sons, Harry W. Ronk of Los Angeles, Calif., and Howard D. Ronk of Poughkeepsie, and by one sister, Mrs. Jeannette Travis, of Walkkill. Six grandchildren also survive. Funeral services were held in the home this afternoon at 2. Interment was in the New Hurley cemetery.

Eva May Selleck, for the past five years a resident of Slighsburg, died Thursday evening following a long illness. She was born in Brooklyn and came to Slighsburg five years ago, where by her fine Christian character she had endeared herself to a very large circle of friends in this community. She was a faithful member of Trinity M. E. Church and Sunday school. She leaves her parents, Albert M. and Eva Green Selleck, a sister, Mrs. James G. Tubby, and a brother, William E. Selleck. Funeral will be held from the late home on First street, Slighsburg, Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in Port Ewen cemetery.

Ellenville, Nov. 25.—Bertha Connor Empt, wife of Ezra Empt, of Lackawack, died at the Horton Memorial Hospital in Middletown on Monday, November 21. Mrs. Empt was born in Wawarsing 53 years ago, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Connor. She married Ezra Empt in Napanoch 25 years ago. A resident of this vicinity her entire lifetime, she was affiliated with the Napanoch M. E. Church and was a member of the Napanoch Lodge of the Daughters of America. Besides her husband she leaves a brother, Thomas Connor, of Monticello, and a sister, Mrs. William Dotson, of Napanoch. Funeral services were held at the late home on Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. Interment was in the Yagerville cemetery.

Ellenville, Nov. 25.—Sanford J. Tice, a life-long resident of this vicinity, died in Veterans' Memorial Hospital here Saturday afternoon, November 19, after an illness of about seven months. He was born near Spring Glen, on the Mountain-dale road on March 10, 1864. About 35 years ago he married Elizabeth Benjamin in Phillipsport and they made their home near Spring Glen also. Mr. Tice was a carpenter and farmer during his lifetime. He was affiliated with the Methodist Church. Surviving are seven sons, Sanford J. Jr., George L., Milton H., Harold, Raymond, Ronald and Norman, and two grandchildren, Bernice and Vera McDowell. Mr. Tice had been making his home with his daughter in Spring Glen. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, November 22, in the Spring Glen Methodist Church, and were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Lyons. The sons acted as pall bearers. Interment was in the Poplar Grove Cemetery in Phillipsport.

Ellenville, Nov. 25.—Byron Hoorbeck, a life-long resident of Grahamsville, died at his home there Sunday morning as the result of heart disease. He was born in Low's Corners in 1854 and was a son of Joseph and Katharine Hoorbeck. He spent his entire life in that vicinity, devoting his time to farming. His first wife died some time ago and in 1926 he married Mary Belle Osterhoudt, who survives him. Mr. Hoorbeck was a member of the Baptist Church in Low's Corners. He leaves besides his wife, four children by his first marriage: Town Superintendent of Highways Judson B. Hoorbeck of Ellenville, Furman Hoorbeck of Poughkeepsie, Seldon Hoorbeck of Monticello, and Mrs. Fred Sheeley of Ellenville. Sixteen grandchildren and eight great grandchildren also survive. Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning in the Reformed Church in Grahamsville. Interment was in the Grahamsville cemetery.

Ellenville, Nov. 25.—Robert J. Gellhard, father of Mrs. Charles J. Goldsmith, died at his home near Cragsmoor, early Monday morning, November 21. Mr. Gellhard and his brother at one time owned adjoining properties which now comprise the Cragsmoor Inn. After selling his property, known as Owassa House 20 years ago, Mr. Gellhard left here for New York city, where he was a building contractor. However, with the death of his wife five years ago and his impaired health, he retired from business. Six months ago he came here to make his home with Mrs. Goldsmith. Seventy-two years old, Mr. Gellhard had been in ill health for some time. He was born in New York city, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gellhard. Five daughters survive. They are, besides Mrs. Goldsmith, Mrs. Arthur Archpander of New York city, Mrs. Michael Geiselhard, Mrs. George Bennett, and Mrs. Anthony Regas of East Rutherford, N. J. He also leaves twelve grandchildren, among them Richard and Robert Goldsmith. Funeral services were held in East Rutherford on Wednesday and burial was in Lyndhurst, N. J.

FINDS NEW FACTS ABOUT HUMAN EYE

The evil eye, glorified symbol in superstition and magic, finds scientific credence. The human eye emanates a peculiar radiation, similar in quality to ultraviolet rays and of a strength sufficient to effect several disturbances, as for example, in yeast cells.

Dr. Otto Rahn, professor of bacteriology at Cornell university, carries further his researches and says that many parts of the body emit radiations—the finger tips, the tip of the nose. Human radiation is generally destructive, that of the plants is not. The intensity of the radiation emitted varies with individuals.

While eyes may kill yeast cells with the piercing intensity of their radiations, they are not needed at all to see with. If an invention of the Viennese Joseph Gartiouber means anything, Vision, says Herr Gartiouber, is caused by "bi-polar equalization of organic electrical tension." We do not actually see with our eyes. They are nothing but electric cells activated by differences in light intensity.

Herr Gartiouber constructed an apparatus which charges highly the electrical field of the body. He claims that with the aid of the apparatus he can read a newspaper, and in public demonstrations has caused blind subjects to distinguish differences in light intensity.—Modern Thinker.

Golden Dinner Service Not Alone for Wealthy

Would you like a gold dinner service or, rather, one that looks like gold? If so, it will not be long before you can buy it just as cheaply as the familiar nickel plate.

Curiously enough, the new "gold" is made in Sheffield, England, the city of steel. The first just-like-gold dinner service was made as the result of a joke. Messrs. W. Turner and company had been experimenting for some time with a new alloy of aluminum and bronze which has all the appearances of good red gold. "Why not make poor men feel like millionaires?" someone suggested, and for a jest the first near-gold dinner service was made. To the surprise of the firm it aroused an immediate demand. People liked the idea of eating off gold and the new metal is easy to look after, since it is almost stainless.

The biggest demand, though, is likely to come from South America and other Latin countries, where there is a deep love of gold itself or of metal that looks like it.

Yellow Jackets Tie Schenectady In Season's Final

The Kingston Yellow Jackets failed in their attempt to defeat the Schenectady St. Adelberts at the Fair Grounds Thanksgiving Day before a gathering of grid fans that should have been larger. It was thought, because of the ideal weather. A 6-6 deadlock with the upstarters was the best the men of Lou Kantrowitz could do in their final game of the season.

Not until the third quarter were there any thrills and the excitement started when Kingston began its 95-yard march for a touchdown. Receiving a punt from Fitzgerald on its two-yard line, the local team instead of kicking chose to send Eddie Minasian through the center for a gain of 25 yards. Christmas dashed around end for seven and passed to Huffer on the 44 yarder for first down. Plunkers by Hoffman and Colvin and a pass from Colvin to Minasian brought the ball down to the visitors' 45 yard mark, close to the sidelines.

Christmas Scores.

Alabama Christmas took the ball, facing an out of bounds play, and raced down the 45 yards to the goal for the Yellow Jackets' line touchdown. Rousa failed to kick the after-touchdown point.

The St. Adelberts registered their touchdown in the fourth quarter on a pass from Fitzgerald to Sikes. A group of Kingston players behind the receiver grounded the toss but the referee ruled interference and the Saints were credited with six points. They did not make good this extra point.

Yellow Jackets' Record.

The tie with Schenectady was Kingston's second of the season, the local team having played a 5-6 game with the Port Jervis Police last weekend. Previous to that the Coppers defeated the Wasps 2-0. Before bowing to the minions of the law, the Yellow Jackets scored six consecutive victories, one over the famous Sing Sing team, 18-7. The prisoners were the first to score on the Kantrowitzmen who defeated all of their other opponents by shut-outs.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Within a year and a half, football has lost its two most compelling figures—Knut Rockne and now Edward Kimball Hall, the executive genius who piloted the National Rules Committee through stormy seas for 25 years.

Hall, of course, was not so well known as the Rock of Notre Dame. Their personalities were widely divergent in type, yet equally forceful. Each had a deep-rooted admiration for the other.

Rockne went about the country protesting loudly a few seasons ago, when the Rules Committee put a stop-watch on the shift to keep it within legal bounds. But when the Notre Dame coach sat down around the conference table with E. K. Hall he yielded quickly to the latter's logic and persuasion.

Hall possessed a rare knack, not only of gaining and keeping the cooperation of men in many lines of work, but of piecing together conflicting views. After an intricate discussion of football rules, in which it would appear no agreement whatever was possible, Hall would sum up both sides so clearly that unity emerged. He was a pastmaster at logic and expression.

Disliked Ballyhoo

Unlike Rockne, football to E. K. Hall meant a sport to be shorn of individual ballyhoo and over-emphasis. I recall how this quiet, soft-spoken leader once shocked a gathering to honor The New York Sun's All-America selections by condemning the entire All-America proceedings as unfair, undesirable and even dangerous.

Hall always thought of football in terms of co-ordinated team play. More than perhaps any other individual not connected with coaching he saw and weighed the fine points of offense and defense, deftly balancing one against the other. He fought for changes in the football rules designed to increase safeguards, with a fairness and clarity of purpose that won widespread recognition.

Under his leadership, the old and dangerous mass momentum plays were abolished and later the flying wedge; the goal posts were moved back, forward and lateral passing developed to make the game more open and spectacular; the recovered fumble declared "dead" to eliminate those heart-breaking reversals, and, finally, the sweeping changes of 1932.

Army Favored Over Notre Dame, 6 to 5

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—Un-touched by the economic situation which has left bare huge sections of many of the country's big stadia this season, Army and Notre Dame will renew their spectacular football rivalry before a capacity crowd in the Yankee stadium, tomorrow.

Not alone on tradition does this annual classic base its tremendous public appeal but also upon the high quality of football these two rivals always display against one another. Poorly played Army-Notre Dame games are a rarity.

May Play on Coast

There was no doubt about the outcome, after Colgate turned back this threat. Clicking in every department of play, the Red Raiders routed the Bruins in the last half with a performance that heightened the team's chances of being elected to represent the east in the tournament of roses game at Pasadena on New Year's.

1932 Colgate 11 Is Kerr's Best Team

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—The football coach's dream—a team neither beaten, tied nor scored on—had come true today for the keen-eyed, smiling little Scotman, Andy Kerr of Colgate, whose fame as a teacher of the "Warner system" has spread from coast to coast since the day he tossed his meagre 120 pounds into the gridiron fray for dear old Dickinson College.

Rolling back from the battle-ground where his Colgate team completed its all-conquering march yesterday with a decisive 21-0 victory over a hitherto unbeaten Brown eleven, Andy Kerr paid tribute to his boys as "the most responsive to his coaching, the best team unit" he ever has had, in more than a quarter century of athletic teaching.

Maroon Falls Before Newburgh Academy, 7-0

On the perfect football afternoon of Thanksgiving Day, a powerful Newburgh Academy crashed the Maroon once more, 7-0, before a gathering of some 4,500 people.

Before the Maroon had set its defense to suit the attack of Newburgh, Chuman got away in the first quarter for a 43 yard run to score the lone touchdown of the battle. He then dropped back and booted the extra point.

The score came in about the middle of the first quarter. Newburgh had made a tremendous gain on a punt by Stevens. The ball traveled 54 yards. From its own 15 yard line Kingston began a drive down the field. It reached the 33 marker and was thrown for a loss of nine yards. Whitaker punted out of bounds on his own 43 yard line. The ball was then taken in 15 yards from the north side of the field and on the first play Chuman smashed off tackle and under splendid interference, raced 43 yards to score.

Newburgh Threatens

Newburgh had the ball on Kingston 44 yard line at the end of the first quarter and resumed its drive in the second. With Chumas, Steven McKinstry carrying the oval the ball was taken to Kingston one yard line and where the Maroon defense tightened and the ball surrendered to the locals on downs. Later in this quarter Kingston had a great opportunity to score. A punt was fumbled by McKinstry on his own 12 yard line and Debrosky recovered. Ground plays failed to push the Maroon ahead so on the last attempt Cullum passed to Debrosky to the five yard line, but the distance gained was not enough and Kingston lost the ball. That was the closest Kingston got to the Newburgh's goal throughout the battle.

Kingston Reveals Power

Starting the second quarter Kingston was much revived team. Throughout the first half the locals gave a poor exhibition of tackling, but in the second half the evil was corrected and the offensive power was clicking and seemed well oiled.

On the kickoff Whitaker took the ball on his own 15 yard line and returned it to the 35. On the first play Cullum got away for 19 yards—the longest run from scrimmage made by any Kingston back during the afternoon. Short bucks took the ball up to Newburgh's 23 yard line, where Kingston lost possession.

Stevens Passes.

From his own 28 yard line Stevens tossed a pass that brought about one of the most sensational spots of the afternoon. Stevens threw the pigskin for 35 yards into the arms of Chumas, who continued to run and wasn't downed until he reached the 15 yard line in Kingston's territory. For a moment it looked like another score but the fast little back in Mack Tiano, nabbed Chumas from behind and saved Kingston from further humiliation.

Cullum a Star

Jim Cullum, captain of the Maroon eleven, set the pace for his team mates once more. On a drive which opened the last quarter, he played the leading role. Kingston took the punt on its 21 yard line. It was returned a yard and here the boys began. From their own 23 yard line Kingston banged its way to Newburgh's 22, a distance of 55 yards. During this push Cullum took the ball time and time again and a

South African Natives

Have Own Newspapers

In South Africa there are now nearly a score of newspapers entirely conducted by natives. The blacks, in fact, have the same fondness as the whites for seeing things in black and white. One of these papers has celebrated its twenty-first birthday, and it boasts a circulation of a thousand copies a week. Many of them are published in native languages, and reach a very high standard. A few contain items in English which are sometimes unconsciously amusing. In a recent report of a wedding readers were told that "Among the presents was one sugar basin and a mill job."

Most of the native papers are very strong on advertisements. Pickle and sauce manufacturers are great supporters of these columns, and a good trade appears to be done by the makers of a lotion for taking the asakhan kinks out of woolly mops of hair.

One might expect that some of these papers would show strong anti-white feeling. This, however, is not the case. Political questions are dealt with, but in the fairest and most open manner, and most of the native papers make strong appeals for a closer understanding between the black and white races.

Probation System Discussed Before Rotary and Kiwanis

citizen of Kingston. Without father or mother, or home ties of any description, he drifted into the companionship of evil associates. Among these was a man of alluring personality, who had served a term in the Albany Penitentiary for removing a pocketbook containing $125 from the pocket of a drunken associate. This man had a nephew who also was engaged with young White at the Baldwin Foundry and machine shops.

In a village of the county some miles removed from Kingston was a grist mill, the owner of which had his machinery made and repaired at the Baldwin place. White and his friend learned that it was the custom of this miller to withdraw a considerable sum of money from his bank on the last Friday afternoon of every month, and on Saturday to pay not only his workmen but farmers of whom he bought grain, and the cash in his mill on the Friday night preceding the payment. The information being imparted by them to the man who had served a term in the Penitentiary, it was decided that the three of them should visit the mill on Friday night and help themselves to the money in the miller's desk. They did this on the night of the last Friday in June, 1878. Now the money stolen largely consisted of the notes or bills of the Highland National Bank of Newburgh. The robbery was reported to the sheriff of Ulster county, who instituted a speedy and thorough investigation, with the result that the three men committing the burglary were arrested, indicted, were brought to trial by me as district attorney, were convicted and sentenced to Sing Sing, that being the prison to which criminals from this county then were sent.

"The state of New York then pursued the custom of accepting contracts for various sorts of work which could be performed by the prisoners confined in the State Prisons. Among the contracts to be performed at Sing Sing was one connected with the casting of the iron work for coal stoves. The Warden of the prison speedily discovered that young White was an adept at this work, and he was placed in charge of a gang of workmen far less efficient than himself. So expert was he that the work turned out under his direction was of so superior a character that it attracted the attention of a large dealer in stoves in a western city, and visiting New York, he went to Sing Sing to look over the method there pursued in the making of stoves. The Warden introduced him to young White who greatly impressed the western man by his intelligence and appearance, so much so that he came to see me and asked if it would not be possible to have young White released from prison, and let him give him a job at similar work in his own home city.

After extended communication with the Warden of the Prison, being informed that White's character was most exemplary, that his influence over the workmen was good, that he had improved the morale of all the men with whom he was associated, I called up the Honorable Lucius Robinson, then governor of the state, presented all the facts to him, and suggested that he grant to White a limited pardon, that is, say, releasing him from prison upon the condition that he properly should behave, but that if he committed any infraction of the law, he should be returned to Sing Sing to serve out the balance of his term. Governor Robinson received my suggestion with the greatest consideration. He said that he long had contemplated the suggesting to the legislature of a system predicated upon the principle of releasing prisoners from penal institutions and giving them an opportunity to reform and become good citizens, and that if I would take the responsibility of seeing that White met my expectations, he would grant him a conditional pardon.

I did assume the responsibility, the limited pardon was granted, White went to the city of the man who had become interested in him, organizing a gang of workmen, conducted in that place a most successful foundry for the manufacture of stoves, and eventually became a man of wealth and influence. For many years, he regularly communicated with me. He never married, saying that he would not ask any woman to marry a man with his record, nor would he think of handing down to children or grandchildren such an inheritance. He died 15 years ago, leaving a considerable fortune all of which he bequeathed to reformatory institutions in the state of his adoption.

"Now," said Judge Clearwater, "it was this experience that first led me to take up the work of probation, in which for so many years, I have been engaged, and in which the guest of the day, Mr. Shelley, is the most distinguished protagonist of the time."

In beginning his address, Judge Shelley stated that it was his hope to speak in such a manner on Probation that business and professional men might interpret his ideas in that light.

"Probation has been in existence for 50 years in this country," said the speaker. "And it was first brought before the public through a cobbler, one John Augustus by name. In a way this was peculiarly appropriate because Mr. Augustus was a member of broken soles. Prior to this time, probation was not in existence, and the only method of dealing with people of anti-social tendencies was through the method of hanging of penal servitude. Both of these methods were far from perfect in the treatment of criminals, and with changing conditions and experiments, new ideas in the treatment of criminals were brought to light."

"Many people," continued the speaker, "seem to think that probation and parole are the same thing. While parole is a means of sending a prisoner from some institution into the world again before the expiration of his sentence, probation is a method of treating anti-social people without sending them to any institution whatever. Probation might be termed a reformatory without walls, with discipline playing the major part in the program."

In the course of his discussion, Judge Shelley brought many salient points before his audience. The cultural and spiritual values that probation embraces, the fact that the benefits of probation cannot be measured in dollars and cents, the realization that environment and temperament play a large part in the matter of social justice, all of these points were stressed by the speaker in his effort to crystallize their importance.

"Any business man knows," said Judge Shelley, "that in order for a business to progress, it must have proper machinery if it is to be successful. The same is true of probation. Unless the best machinery is behind it, it will not be successful in its enterprise. The only way that probation can be successful is through proper machinery, and the right type of men to see that the machinery runs smoothly."

In his closing remarks, the speaker gave facts and figures to show that probation is an important part of the American social program. "A survey of several states has shown," said Judge Shelley, "that 22,000 adults were on probation. If they had been confined to some penal institution, the cost would be in the neighborhood of $10,000,000 for their support."

The question of desertion, a crime that is little thought about, is an important one economically, stated the speaker. "When a man leaves his wife and children destitute and without support, they are thrown upon society to care for. Although desertion receives little publicity, it is an important thing to consider from both the economic and social viewpoint."

In closing, Judge Shelley paid his respects to Judge Clearwater for his gracious introduction, and to the members of the two service clubs for their attention and interest in his talk.

Land of Extremes

The highest known point in the United States, exclusive of Alaska, is the summit of Mount Whitney, in California, which is 14,496 feet above sea level, and the lowest known dry land in the United States is in Death valley, also in California, which is 276 feet below sea level.

In mid-June campers were driven away from the vicinity of Lake Tahoe by a cold storm which approached the severity of a blizzard. A few days later at least one of these parties encountered a temperature of 105 degrees at Bakersfield.

"The same contrast is to be encountered in the California landscape. Great stretches of sun-scorched prairie land are seen on one hand, but turn around and you see beautiful palms and green gardens. The green country is where the land is irrigated."—Washington Star.

Every Week Is Apple Week In New York, Says Baldwin

Agriculture Commissioner advises Apples and Milk for Winter "Snack"—Calls New York Apples Best

Editor's Note—This article is one of a series on economy and food appearing in this paper in cooperation with the Consumers Information Service of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

By CHARLES H. BALDWIN

Commissioner, Department of Agriculture and Markets Albany, New York

THE nation recently had its special attention called to one of our most popular, healthful and economical articles of diet, the apple, through a general observance of Apple Week. A laudable endeavor, indeed, but we New Yorkers ought to keep ever in mind the truth that Apple Week for the use of New York State apples is every week in the year.

There is no state in the Union which offers its citizens a greater supply in such fine quality of this splendid fruit. Every argument for the apple as a food—quality, quantity and price—can be marshalled in favor of the New York State apple, yet thousands of bushels of this fruit are necessarily wasted every year through lack of sufficient market.

The state itself has taken every step in behalf of the apple consumer. Growers, too, are increasingly attentive to making their product more desirable and more attractive in every way. Now I should like to call upon the great body of consumer-public in New York State to do their share and take full advantage of these things that have been undertaken for their own special benefit. In planning the family dietary for the coming winter months, let every householder and housewife give an increasingly generous place to the good old New York State apple.

What has the State done for the consumer of apples? It has passed and is enforcing an apple grading law, and rules and regulations thereunder. Until comparatively recently the New York State apple purchaser had only his own alertness to guard him against inferior fruit.

The growers and packers, too, are of themselves taking steps to make it possible for our own New York State product, admittedly unsurpassed as to flavor and quality, to take their rightful place in the "fancy markets." The finest New York State apples are, to an ever increasing extent, being carefully selected and attractively packed in crates or boxes with separate paper containers for each apple. If it is a fancy "eating apple" for which you are looking, why not this winter insist on getting a New York State product?

And what is more delightful for a winter "midnight snack" than a crisp, firm, snappy New York State McIntosh, Northern Spy or Baldwin, and a tall glass of milk? Or a fresh cut of juicy apple pie, perhaps with cream?

Let us make this winter one long, continuous New York State Apple Week. You will please your pocketbook as well as your palate for New York apples have not been lower in price in years.

GIRLS' CLUB TO PRESENT THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS

Accord, Nov. 25—The Girls' Club of the Rochester Reformed Church will give three one-act plays on Wednesday, November 30, starting at 8 o'clock, in the church basement. The plays and casts are as follows:

"This Is So Sudden"—Marjorie Davis, Kathryn Gazlay, Helen Rider, Mabel Hendrickson, Mae Miller.

"Mall Order Husbands"—Mr. and Mrs. C. King, Doris Miller, Franklin Kelder.

"Mrs. Oakley's Telephone"—Melvina Barley, Jean Miller, Doris Palmer, Ida Besdeski.

Anyone who saw last year's play is expected to want to see these. They are full of laughs and well acted.
